ITINERARY, ONE OF MANY

To see the most of the Grenadines...

With the Caribbean Tradewinds, it's fabulous to pick up in St. Vincent, Young Island Cut and drop off in St. Georges, Grenada. No matter what time your guest's flight comes into St. Vincent, it's less than an hour's sail to Bequia! At Young Island Cut there is a fantastic climb to the top of Fort Duvernette to see an old historical fort including cannons from Her Majesties Royal Navy. The view is spectacular of the surrounding reefs and of course, the guests' yacht!

On Bequia, it is still filled with both a working harbor of fisherman, whalers, ferries and of any kind of yacht you can imagine. There is the Turtle Sanctuary for those interested that takes you on travels to the other side of the island for a tour. Bequia too, has a Fort but is accessed by car. Diving and snorkeling is plentiful. There have been sightings of rays, dolphins, whales and even a sighting of a sea horse! Bequia's markets, stores and town are built on the harbor's edge and walking the curved beach is a truly Caribbean experience.

On your sail out of Bequia to Mustique, you will see an unusual home built in the cliff side called Moonhole. This was built by the architect Tom Johnston long ago and now unlivd in.

Enjoy Macaroni Beach in Mustique, and most times you can have it all to yourself! This beach has been rated one of the top 10 beaches in the world. An open air taxi tour is always fun for those who want know the "who's who" of Mustique homes and properties. Snorkeling along the long beach and reef in Britannia bay is refreshing and around the corner Lagoon Bay is terrific. The best happy hour on the island for the view is Firefly. They have courtesy pick-ups and the view, drinks etc cannot be beat. Once again, clients can look down over their yacht at sunset.

Moonhole, Bequia

Onward to the famous Tobago Cays. If you can possibly swing spending two days here, it is worth it. There is much to do and see in this area and is not to be missed. Just the color of the waters will take your breath away! Taking clients out to Petit Tabac (where a scene from the first Pirates of Caribbean was filmed) is like feeling marooned yourself! There is a turtle sanctuary, plenty of beaches and the snorkeling is endless. The evenings event is a BBQ while watching the sunset over Mayreau. All specially prepared for you on the beach under the stars.

Mayreau has a very special anchorage called Salt Whistle Bay. It has a horseshoe beach, palm trees rustling in the Caribbean breeze and also a narrow beach to see beyond to the ocean. A walk up to the top of Mayreau after lunch, when the sun is past it's zenith, will display shades of every kind of the color blue. Overlooking all the reefs in Tobago Cays it is worth the hike up!

A short sail to Union Island where one of the most unusual islands exist...Happy Island. This is man made by a local named Jante who is delightful and a wonderful host. Although not very big in size it's big in Caribbean style!

Sandy Island, Caricaou is not to be missed. For being nothing but a sand bar, it has a lot to offer. The snorkeling here is wonderful on the east end. Pelicans perform all around you like a dance. Yachts are sometimes able to anchor close enough for guests to swim right off the yacht

Happy Hour Island

Seven Sisters, Grenada

On the sail down to Grenada you can stop and have lunch at a desolate harbor only a few miles from Grenada's active volcano, Kick-em-Jenny.

Grenada is a magical place. The locals here offer the best hospitality in the Caribbean. I always recommend that guests spend a full day here since there is so much to experience. The Seven Sisters waterfalls are worth the 1/2 hour hike (take the walking stick!), the Botanical Gardens, the Cocoa/Chocolate Factory (which I have found to rate up there with Belgian Chocolate) and have numerous monkeys. And please do not miss a walk around the Carénage for a true sense of a West Indian City and culture.
